

the nab should address the programming of regular radio versus satellite and the large amount of commercials that keep listeners switching stations just to find more entertainment.

i do not require traffic reports where i live but i rely on the weather and up to date news provided by my xm radio.

the air stations need competition maybe that will improve them.